

share

ArtPrize After Event

WITH PROFESSOR AND AUTHOR
NATALIE DYKSTRA

Thursday, October 3, 2013
9 - 11 pm | CitySēn Lounge
Grand Rapids, MI

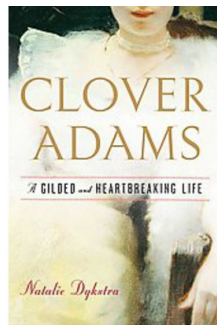

Please join us at CitySēn in celebrating Arts and Humanities at Hope College. Hors d'oeuvres and refreshments will be served.

*Sponsored by Patrice Rankine
Dean for the Arts and Humanities at Hope College*

Learn with Hope

Natalie Dykstra, Associate Professor of English at Hope College, will share her perspective as professor and author and be on hand to sell and sign copies of her latest biography, “Clover Adams: A Gilded and Heartbreaking Life,” published by Houghton Mifflin Harcourt in 2012.

“Taking a cue from Henry Adams that the best way to tell history is through vivid narrative, Ms. Dykstra does something more. She writes like an artist, and her debut into biography with Clover Adams is a solid and shining achievement.”

-Washington Times

“A startling, original portrait of a woman in a shining cage discovering the terrible strength of its bars.” -People

Thursday, October 3, 2013

9 - 11 pm | CitySēn Lounge

83 Monroe Center St. NW
Grand Rapids, MI 49503

 There is no cost for this event. Please RSVP by September 18 to rankine@hope.edu.

Kickoff a weekend of connecting at this event and then head to campus for Homecoming on October 4-6. Learn more at hope.edu/homecoming

Office of Alumni & Parent Relations

141 East 12th Street, Holland, MI 49423

616.395.7250 | 616.395.7899 fax | alumni@hope.edu